

Institute for Integrative Toxicology

Seminar Series

2017-2018

Date & Host	Speaker	Title
September 8 N. Kaminski	Jon Cook Pfizer	Why Toxicologists Should be Trained in Precision Medicine Principles
October 13 B. Roth	Rachel Murphy Michigan State University	In vitro examination of drug induced idiosyncratic renal and liver injury
November 10 J. Luyendyk	Jason Richardson Northeast Ohio Medical University	Novel Targets for Reducing Neuroinflammation in Parkinson's Disease
December 8 EITS Student	Stacey Missmer Michigan State University	Endometriosis: Exemplar of the Critical Need for Integration of Population and Basic Science
January 12 S. Bhattacharya	Jianrong Wang Michigan State University	Integrative Modeling of Regulatory Genomics and Epigenomics to Understand Human Disease Mechanisms
February 9 M. Holsapple	John Wambaugh U.S. EPA	Establishing Real World Context for High Throughput Toxicity Testing
April 13 J. Goodman	Susan Hester U.S. EPA	Opening the Archives-Novel Methods to Advance Whole Transcriptomic Analyses of Archival Tissues

** All seminars are at Noon and held in room 162 Food Safety & Toxicology Building.